Sir:

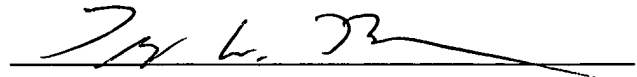

The instant patent application was passed to allowance on November 23, 2005. In the "Notice of Allowability" the Examiner did not check line item five. Line item five demands the submission of corrected drawings. The Applicants, therefore, are under no obligation to replace the sheets filed with application on May 20, 2004.

However, out of an abundance of caution, the Applicants file herewith a set of formal drawings to replace the informal drawings as originally filed. The attached drawings offer sharper and darker lines the Applicants believe are more suited for publication. However, these formal drawings are substantively identical to those provided with the application as originally filed. These "change[s] in the drawings", by way of a "Post Allowance Amendment", are provided pursuant to MPEP § 714.16.

The Applicants assert the enclosed formal drawings do not compromise the patentability of the allowed claims nor should they provoke additional search or examination by the Examiner. Finally, these reformatted drawings do not introduce any new matter into the allowed application.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: February 21, 2006
